Cashel Blue

A handmade, semi-soft, medium-strength blue cheese with a creamy texture and smoky bacon undertones. Cashel Blue was the first Irish blue cheese, named after the Rock of Cashel which over-looks the cheese farm.

Berkswell

A sheep's milk cheese, hand-made at 16th Century Ram Hall, situated on the edge of Berkswell village, West Midlands. This cheese has a wonderfully clean, firm bite, it is sweet and nutty with a hint of caramel and a definite tang on the finish.

Dorstone

This is a moist, fluffy-textured, unpasteurised, goats' milk cheese with an ash coating made in Dorstone in Herefordshire.
